

ClearTract™ Patient Testimonials

My mother was diagnosed with an epidural cyst at the T7 level which left her paralyzed from the waist down after removing the cyst via surgery. After surgery, my mom was wheelchair bound and with incontinence. When she arrived home, she was doing intermittent catheterization every 3 hours. This was too much on my mother physically to keep doing the IC. I believe it was 2010 that my mom went under surgery to utilize the Supra pubic catheter. It was somewhat of a relief for my mom to have the Supra pubic catheter except for the constant urinary tract infections that my mom had acquired. Her urologist at the time told her it was the downside of having the Supra pubic tube. My mom tried cranberry supplements, probiotics, countless gallons of cranberry juice and medications to prevent urinary tract infections with little to no relief. Even with flushing and irrigating the tube twice a day she would get blockage and infections.

On one of my mom's monthly appointments to replace the old catheter, her physician Dr Kreydin told her of a new Supra pubic product called Silq and she agreed to try it. Ever since my mom started using the new Silq Supra pubic tube,

(5 months) her urinary tract infections have subsided, no more blockage of sediment and the tube doesn't stick to the stroma during removal for replacement of new tubes every month. My mom is completely relieved and satisfied with the new Silq Supra pubic tubes. She hopes this testimony helps other patients with similar situations that may benefit from the new Silq Supra pubic tubes. It has improved my mom's health both physically and mentally. Thank you again for all you do in new and innovative methods of helping patients like my mom.

Respectfully,
